

CRITERIA FOR EISENHOWER FELLOWS – USA PROGRAM

We award Eisenhower Fellowships to extraordinary leaders who are U.S. citizens and legal permanent residents age 32-45 from all professions based on the following criteria:

- They have demonstrated significant accomplishments within their communities and their professions.
- They have designed for themselves a fellowship program that takes full advantage of this unique opportunity to leverage their professional and leadership skills.
- They have identified how they will undertake consequential activities that will better the world around them as a result of their fellowship.
- They have committed to engage actively with the global Eisenhower Fellowship network throughout their lifetime.

USA

EISENHOWER FELLOWS

A Highlight of Our 245 Fellows in the USA Program

Andrea Cabral | Boston, Massachusetts
Sheriff, Suffolk County Sherriff's Department
(2007 to Australia)

The first woman to be elected to this position, Sheriff Andrea Cabral's department is the 30th largest in the United States. With over 1,000 employees, her primary responsibility is to provide safe care, custody, control and rehabilitative support for more than 2,700 offenders daily. The average annual operating budget for the Department is $92 million. As a result of her fellowship to Australia, Sheriff Cabral has enhanced rehabilitative programs for inmates and has widened the circle of community and education-based program partnerships in order to provide the most holistic approach to reducing recidivism.

Gail Harrity | Philadelphia, PA
President and COO, Philadelphia Museum of Art
(2002 to China and China (Taiwan))

Since joining the Museum in 1997, Gail Harrity has led the Museum's overall financial and management functions, including membership and information services, which has created a single collections database of the Museum's 225,000 objects and a new website enabling better public use of the Museum's collections. As a result of her fellowship, she set up several partnerships and exchanges with Eisenhower Fellows and art establishments in China, Russia, Italy, and Argentina.

Adrienne Kravitz | Bridgewater, MA
(2010 to Brazil and Uruguay)

Adrienne Kravitz left the private sector to become a second generation cranberry grower and manage five farms with over 800 land acres and over 150 production acres. After her Fellowship, she joined Al Roker and Martha Stewart to promote an Ocean Spray campaign to eradicate childhood hunger by 2015. She has also established relationships in Brazil to provide cranberry extracts for study in the use of cancer treatments. View her fellowship blog at: <http://adrienneseisenhowerfellowshipblog.blogspot.com/>

Christopher Nowinski | Boston, MA
Co-Director, Boston University, Center for the Study of Traumatic Encephalopathy
(2011 to the European Commission, Germany, Switzerland and Italy)

Christopher Nowinski met with leaders in sports and sports medicine throughout Western Europe to promote ways to address Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (CTE), a degenerative brain disease that affects athletes who suffer multiple concussions. As a result of his fellowship, he is developing an international brain bank initiative linking his non-profit Sports Legacy Institute at Boston University School of Medicine with researchers in Dublin and Munich. He was named by HealthLeaders Media in 2011 as one of the 20 people who make healthcare better.

Leaders bettering the world around them.

Sister Mary Scullion | Philadelphia, PA
Founder, Women of Hope; Executive Director, Project H.O.M.E.
(2002 to Hungary and Italy)

Sister Mary Scullion leads Project H.O.M.E., which provides integrated services to the homeless. Upon her return from her fellowship, she used what she learned in Europe to establish the Comcast Technology Lab and Honickman Learning Center, a three-story megacenter loaded with state-of-the-art hardware and software education systems for Project H.O.M.E. clientele. In 2009 she was named one of Time Magazine's "Most Influential People."

Chellie Pingree | North Haven, ME
Congresswoman, U.S. House of Representatives
(1997 to Hungary)

Chellie Pingree was elected to the United States House of Representatives for Maine's 1st District. When she was selected as an Eisenhower Fellow, she was serving as the Majority Leader of the Maine State Senate. Afterwards, as the president and CEO of Common Cause, she led this nonpartisan citizens' lobbying group based in Washington, DC with nearly 300,000 members. Since her fellowship, she has spoken at EF conferences in New York and Korea, has served on EF's New England Steering Committee, and has hosted international groups of Fellows in Washington, D.C.

Mike Train | Chanhassen, MN
President, Rosemount Measurement
(2008 to Turkey and Saudi Arabia)

Michael Train leads the Rosemount Measurement business, a division of Emerson Process Management with operations in the USA, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, the UK, Russia, China, India, Singapore, Dubai, and Brazil. He has responsibility for sales, product development, and operations of this $1.6 billion enterprise which employs over 6,000 people. Since completing his fellowship, Mr. Train has sponsored a number of direct business investments in the Middle East region and has personally participated in developing partnerships with several educational institutions in the region.

Clint Zweifel | Jefferson City, MO
Treasurer, State of Missouri
(2009 to Brazil and Spain)

As Missouri State Treasurer, Clint Zweifel is the State's chief financial officer. His office manages Missouri's $22 billion in annual state revenues, directs the state's banking services and manages Missouri's $4 billion investment portfolio. Prior to his election to state treasurer, Mr. Zweifel represented the 78th District in the Missouri House of Representatives for six years. On his fellowship to Brazil and Spain, Mr. Zweifel looked at ways to develop innovative energy policies at the state level, better understand how government and market interact in developing long-term solutions and ways to spur research and development investment inside Missouri. Upon returning, he instituted increased energy efficiency standards for the State's housing commission, which develops low-income housing throughout Missouri. Mr. Zweifel continues to build dialogue with private and public sector stakeholders in energy to ensure Missourians are in a strong position for the long-term.

Leaders bettering the world around them.

ORGANIZATIONAL FACTS

ORIGIN

A private, non-profit, non-partisan organization created by a group of prominent American citizens to honor then-President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his contribution to humanity as a soldier, statesman, and world leader.

MISSION

Eisenhower Fellowships (EF) identifies, empowers and links outstanding leaders from around the world, helping them to achieve consequential outcomes across sectors and borders. EF provides a transformational experience leading to lifetime engagement in a global network, where dialogue and collaboration make the world more prosperous, just and peaceful.

PROGRAM

An individualized five to seven week itinerary of consultations with senior officials in government, industry, academia, the arts and the not-for profit sector. The Multi Nation Program brings 20 – 25 Fellows from countries around the world in all sectors to the U.S. each spring. Each fall a Single Nation, Single Region or Common Interest Program brings to the U.S. a similar number Fellows. The USA Program sends 8 – 12 Americans abroad, including at least one U.S. farmer or rancher, to gain international exposure to people, institutions, technologies and ideas.

EISENHOWER FELLOWS

Identified by blue-ribbon committees in 49 countries and 4 U.S. cities, mid-career men and women who have demonstrated significant achievement and are poised to assume positions of substantial influence in their fields. Eisenhower Fellows regularly attain higher positions after their fellowships. More than half of all Eisenhower Fellowships alumni indicate that they have been involved in fostering societal change at some point after their fellowships.

EISENHOWER NETWORK

Nearly 1,900 alumni Fellows in over 100 countries, including heads of government, cabinet level officials, national legislators, provincial governors, university presidents, and CEOs of corporations and non-profit organizations who engage with other Fellows and with other members of the Eisenhower network.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

A distinguished group of more than seventy senior international leaders in business and public affairs chaired by General Colin L. Powell USA, (retired) and led by its president, John S. Wolf.

FINANCE

Annual operating expenses of over $4.0 million, the majority of which comes from globally active and aware individual sponsors, corporations, and foundations.

Leaders bettering the world around them.